HELP THE ZIEGELS EXPLORATORY COMMITTEE

The Exploratory Committee is currently discussing how our denominations shape who we are and how we minister. We would like to get some feedback from our congregations, specifically to one idea – what does it mean to us to be Lutheran or UCC? We are presenting the idea in several formats – in bulletin inserts, in the church newsletter, on Facebook, in "table talk" sessions following our Summer worship services (informally gathering in the Fellowship Hall), and as part of our worship on August 12th.

To help people focus on the idea, consider the question in any of these forms:

What practices of your Ziegels congregation (Lutheran/UCC-- please specify) are vital to your faith?

Or: What gives you "life" or vitality or meaning?

Or: What does it mean to you to be distinctively Lutheran or UCC?

(One example might be the way that your denomination practices communion; but there are probably other ways as well. Share as much as you want!)
